THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1907.

Notice!

Many complaints have reached this office from different parts of the county from subscribers who are not receiving The Jeffersonian regularly.

In reply we can only say that every package of papers is verified before it leaves our office, and it is the fault of the local postoffices or R. F. D. carriers if the papers do not reach their destination. An investigation of this matter has been asked of the postal authorities, in order that the trouble may be located and further annoyance eliminated.

AN increase of $1,000,000, over last year's returns for farm products is indicated by the crop reports. This is good news for the trusts, which have already planned how to take it away from the tillers of the soil.

THIRTY-SEVEN Chinese sailors who saw the Statue of Liberty for the first time thought it was a big idol and burnt a lot of joss sticks in its honor. Many Americans likewise take an adolatrast view of the subject.

Two years ago the partisan newspapers of the state were rending their garments in their vociferous efforts to elect "the ticket." A little later, when the Kentucky Press Association asked the Legislature for a just and fair libel law, it was given the merry ha-ha by the same men who tried to elect, and now history is repeating itself. The support of a candidate for office on the ground of partisan politics merely, is a mighty poor business. Six Hopkins' idea of "never doin' nothin' for nobody that don't do nothin' for me" is much more practical and effective.

Undaunted By Calamity.

The fire which damaged the Courier-Journal building early last Friday morning to the extent of several hundred thousand dollars is regretted by every member of the newspaper fraternity in Kentucky, but along the regret is a feeling of pride in the manner in which both the Courier-Journal and the Times overcame all obstacles and issued their papers without missing a single number. Nothing less could be expected, however, of such men as Bruce and W. B. Haldeman, our own "Marx Heintz" and "Bob" Brown. May the Courier-Journal and the Times continue to grow and prosper, and maintain in the future, as they have heretofore, their prestige as the leading newspapers of the South.

Deserves No Sympathy.

The Louisville Railway company is now face to face with another strike among its employees, who allege discrimination and failure to observe the provisions of the agreement made between them in March.

Patrick Henry in his noted oration before the Virginia House of Burgesses declared that he knew of no way to forecast the future except by the light of the past, and it is lamentable that the officials of the railway company have so signally and persistently failed to profit by their past experience.

For years they refused to put conductors on their cars, and were finally forced to do so by the refusal of a long suffering public to continue to "drop a nickel in the slot." For years the company's cars remained unheated in winter, until it was forced by legislation to heat them.

For years the motemen were exposed to all the inclemencies of the weather because the company would not provide vestibules for their protection. And since the beginning of the suburban service the company officials have laughed at the law and ignored the requirements of the separate coach statute. Every day and on every suburban car the wives and daughters and mothers of suburban patrons of the Beargrass Railway are subjected to insults and rudeness and forced to listen to obscene and profane language from the negroes who are permitted to occupy the same compartment as the white passengers. Is it any wonder that the public sentiment is with the striking employees? Is it any wonder that the merits of the controversy between the officials and its men are lost sight of?

For short-sighted, wilful, contemptuous, persistent indifference to the comfort, convenience and rights of its employees and the public, the Louisville Railway company is entitled to first place every time.

INSURE YOUR PROPERTY

With Reliable Companies
Through a Reliable Agent

E. R. SPROWL, Jeffersontown, Kentucky.

TO THE INSURING PUBLIC:

As a majority of you know, I represented the Home Insurance Company, of New York, for fifteen years. As I could not conscientiously endorse the acts of its Special Agent, William May, he had no further use for my services and severed them in October, 1906, and although I immediately replaced the "Home" with three other first-class Companies in my agency, the statement was made by a Home agent, who thinks he is in the insurance business, "that Sprowl was out of the insurance business," a statement that he knew was false. Finding that would not "work" he then stated that I "was working under another agent," who he thought was unpopular, which he also knew to be false. As this still did not bring expected results, they are now, with the aid of the aforementioned Wm. May trying a misleader in the shape of an advertisement in The Jeffersonian under date of Aug. 29, 07, and it is gotten up in a very nice shape, and if the old adage "that figures never lie" would hold good in this instance, I would acknowledge that the said Monroe and Miller were increasing their business very materially, and securing "Home" renewals right along. But are they? I say No, and I CAN ESTABLISH THIS FACT.

In the first place Miller was not connected with the Home Insurance Company "the first six months of 1906," neither do Monroe and Miller both live and hold their headquarters at Jeffersontown, as one would infer from May's letter. The FACT is, Monroe lives at Shepherdsville, and if he wrote "that $4,320.10 in premiums the first six months of 1906," to get the correct amount of business done by the Home Insurance Company for that period, then should be added $4,492.20 written by me at that time, making a total of $8,812.30, which also included my mercantile risks, consequently, instead of "showing a gain as compared with last year of $1,810.65," they are just "shy" $2,681.55, a little discrepancy of $4,492.20, a small item, however, to men who are "increasing" (?) their business so rapidly.

For the first six months of this year I had upon my books, 66 "Home" renewals. Monroe and Miller have written TEN of them, only ONE in Jeffersontown and that one a negro. And while I have a number of mercantile risks, they have never written a single one of them. And although I was in the infirmity for a while, and my other business has kept me pretty busy, I have written over $4,000.00 in premiums—119 policies so far this year—which is the best evidence that I can furnish that my patrons are loyal, and cannot be mislead, for which I am exceedingly thankful. You can rely upon my seeing you IN TIME to attend to your renewal.

Yours very truly,

E. R. SPROWL.

N. B.—I would not burden you with this statement but for the fact that, knowing this fellow May so well, and that his object is, if possible, to deprive me of a business that has taken twenty years of my life to build. But I have too much confidence in my fellow-men to believe that this accident of nature will succeed in his malicious design. (It.) SPROWL.

"SIX GREAT DAYS."

POPULAR BELIEF IN KENTUCKY
STATE FAIR.

SPECIAL FEATURES ARRANGED.

Program Announced For Every Day and Every Night—All Are to Be Elaborate.

Six special days and as many special nights mean that the Kentucky State Fair will fulfill its promise to have something doing every minute of six great days and nights during the week of September 16th at Louisville. Col.
W. W. Hitt, President of the Louisville Board of Trade, is the General Chairman of the Committee on Special Days, and has announced the following:

Monday, September 16—School Children's Day. C. B. Nordeman, Member Louisville School Board, Chairman.
Tuesday, September 17—Fraternal Day. R. S. Brown, President Louisville Commercial Club, Chairman.

Wednesday, September 18—Louiville Day. Geo. G. Petter, Director Louisville Board of Trade, Chairman.
Thursday, September 19—Kentucky
Day. Lew B. Brown, of Harrodsburg, President Kentucky Press Association,
Chairman.

Friday, September 20—Southern Indiana Day. Adam Heinberger, President New Albany Commercial Club,
Chairman.

Saturday, September 21—Everybody's Day. Everybody, Chairman.
The Special Nights Committee is headed by J. V. Beckmann, Manager of the Retail Merchants' Association, who has announced the special nights as follows:

Monday, September 16—German-American Night. F. W. Keisker, Chairman.

Tuesday, September 17—Irish-American Night. Thos. McCabe, Chairman.

Wednesday, September 18—Labor Night. John Young, President Louisville Federation of Labor, Chairman.

Thursday, September 19—Press
Night. Young E. Allison, Chairman.

Friday, September 20—Military Night. Col. W. B. Haldeman, Colonel Commanding First Kentucky Regiment, Chairman.

Saturday, September 21—Farewell Night. Smith T. Bailey, Chairman.

Mr. Nordeman expects School Children's Day to bring the crowds not only from Louisville, but from all over the State. He has appointed every county and city school superintendent in Kentucky as a member of his committee.

For Fraternal Day, a large tent will be erected where headquarters may be opened by representatives of all fraternal organizations to receive, welcome and register guests. It is the hope of Col. Brown to have a series of drills by the uniform ranks of the different organizations.

Mr. Petter will have the active cooperation of commercial, industrial, financial and professional organizations in making Louisville Day one that will put it in red letters on the Fair calendar.

No one will be held enough, however,
to challenge the popularity of Kentucky Day. Every indication points to its being the banner day of the week. Mr. Brown has named many prominent editors of Kentucky as his associates on this committee. He is counting upon several large excursions from different points. The editors will have a rally on the night of Kentucky Day, which is known as Press Night, and Col. Allison is arranging a very attractive program. Press headquarters are to be established at the Fair grounds.

Mr. Heinberger is not only appointing Southern Indiana editors, but heads of commercial organizations in that section, as members of the Southern Indiana Day Committee.

The programs for every night will be attractive. This will be especially true of Military Night, when the First Regiment will give an exhibition drill in front of the grand stand.

While the days and nights have been given some special name, it does not follow that the State Fair management wishes to confine the attendance to those interested in the way that the name indicates. On the contrary, the State Board of Agriculture invites everybody to come every day and every night.

At a great outlay of money the State Board of Agriculture has contracted with Captain Roy Knabenhusen to bring his passenger-carrying airship, the marvel of the country, to the Kentucky State Fair, September 16 to 21, and give daily flights and exhibitions with a night ride in the air guided by a searchlight.

Pain's famous Manhattan Beach fire works and a gigantic pyrotechnic spectacle, the eruption of Vesuvius, an actual reproduction of the awe-inspiring calamity of 1906, will be given nightly in front of the grand stand at the Kentucky State Fair in Louisville, September 16 to 21.

A State Fair ribbon has the backing of the Commonwealth of Kentucky. It is a trophy of big value aside from the money that accompanies it.

Sensational acrobatic acts will be given free each day at the Kentucky State Fair, in front of the grand stand.
